Much of Aberdeenshire's coast is rated as one of the most scenic in the world by National Geographic magazine with 165 miles of glistening coastal scenery just waiting to be discovered. This three day itinerary provides some ideas for planning a group holiday to this incredible part of Scotland. You'll discover a fine collection of fascinating visitor attractions; captivating history; beautiful nature reserves abundant in wildlife; dramatic clifftop walks, charming coves and expansive beaches; delightful towns and villages and world-class golf courses.

Begin this trip on the Banffshire coast – 'Scotland's Dolphin Coast', with a tour of Glenglassaugh Distillery near Sandend. Then head east to the town of Portsoy and discover the intriguing stories of its fishing and smuggling past by the historic 17th century harbour and at the Salmon Bothy. Continue further east to Banff and admire the stunning Georgian architecture of Duff House – an outstation of the National Galleries of Scotland. Nearby, visit Macduff Marine Aquarium or enjoy a round of golf at Duff House Royal. Banff has a selection of possible overnight accommodation.

On day two, head for the busy fishing town of Fraserburgh. This is the UK's largest shellfish port, where you can uncover over 400 years of history at Fraserburgh Heritage Centre. Right next door, take a tour of the Museum of Scottish Lighthouses. South-east of Fraserburgh call into the RSPB Scotland Loch of Strathbeg reserve and see all manner of birdlife. Spend time discovering the Energetica Coast running from Peterhead (Europe's largest white fish port) to Aberdeen, where beautiful beaches rich in wildlife, are just waiting to be explored. For early-birds, visit Peterhead Fish Market at 7.00am (Monday to Friday) to see fresh landings being sold (maximum group size 20). Possible overnight in Boddam/Peterhead or Aberdeen.

Day three starts at either Torry Battery on the south-side of Aberdeen Harbour or at Footdee on the north side. Built in 1860, Torry Battery defended the entrance to the harbour, but today is one of the best places along the coast to spot resident bottlenose dolphins. If you opt to head for Footdee instead of Torry Battery, this also provides great access to Aberdeen Esplanade, amusement park and the Beach Ballroom. Travel down the coast to Stonehaven and see thousands of seabirds at RSPB Scotland's Fowlsheugh reserve. No trip along the Coastal Trail is complete without a visit to the iconic clifftop fortress of Dunnottar Castle, which survived a Cromwell siege, protected the Scottish crown jewels, was the setting for Mel Gibson's Hollywood movie Hamlet and narrowly missed out on becoming the eighth wonder of the world.

Day 1 - The Banffshire coast - 'Scotland’s Dolphin Coast'

1. GLENGLASSAUGH DISTILLERY - Situated at the east end of beautiful Sandend Bay is Glenlossaugh Distillery, founded in 1975 by Colonel James Moir. For over 20 years, this distillery was closed until it was purchased by a group of investors and production restarted in 2008. Discover the fin le flavours of one of the Secret Malts of Aberdeenshire and go on a behind-the-scenes tour. You can even fill your own bottle of Glenlossaugh whisky and take it away with you!

2. PORTSOF SALMON BOTHY - Uncover the fascinating fishing traditions of the region at the Salmon Bothy Museum, housed in a charming lime-washed building which dates back over 180 years. You’ll find a range of exhibits in the former ice chambers. Learn about the town’s harbour, its industry, trade and the salmon fishing operations, and get a unique insight into the geography, history and culture of Portsoy. In the bothy, trace your family tree with trained genealogists and discover your connections to the area.

3. DUFF HOUSE - Take in the splendour of one of Scotland’s architectural masterpieces. Built by William Adam in the 18th century, the house was originally a seat for the 1st Earl Fife and is now one of 18 sites along Scotland’s Castle Trail. Admire the artwork, many of which are on loan from the National Galleries of Scotland, before exploring the vast parkland grounds. Still along the banks of the River Deveron to the south of the house, or test your game with a round of golf at Duff House Royal Golf Club.

4. MACDUFF AQUARIUM - Discover astonishing underwater worlds at this brilliant attraction which is great for visitors of all ages. Learn about the marine life of the Moray Firth, from its rocky shores to the depths of the sea floor. Come face-to-face with intriguing sea creatures such as octopus and conger eel, and hold starfish and crabs at the touch pool. The aquarium is home to a living kelp reef, the only one of its kind in Britain. You might even see dven hand feeding the fish.

Day 2 - Fraserburgh & the East Grampian coast

1. FRASERBURGH HERITAGE CENTRE - Explore a treasure trove of wonders and discover 400 years of history at this award winning museum and visitor centre, established by members of the local community in what was originally a barn store. The centre which is located next to the Museum of Scottish Lighthouses, gives a great insight into the story of Fraserburgh and its people through 23 unique displays. Learn about Thomas Blake Glover, one of the founders of modern Japan, and see some remarkable garments by iconic 1960s fashion designer Bill Gibb. Audio tours of the museum building but not to the entrance to the Moray Firth – you might even spot some wonderful marine wildlife off the coast. Disabled access is available to the museum building but not to the lighthouse itself.

2. MUSEUM OF SCOTTISH LIGHTHOUSES - Take a guided tour of Kinnaird Head, the only lighthouse in the world built in a castle, whilst on your visit to this award-winning national museum. See the fascinating exhibitions which include a wonderful collection of glass lighthouse lenses and learn about the lives of those who watched over Scotland’s coastline for over 200 years. Enjoy some refreshments in Stevenson’s Café and take in views of the entrance to the Moray Firth – you might even spot some wonderful marine wildlife off the coast. Disabled access is available to the museum building but not to the lighthouse itself.

3. RSPB SCOTLAND LOCH OF THE YTHAN ESTUARY - Walk through sand dunes at RSPB National Nature Reserve and explore the heather moorlands, cliffs and a nearby secluded beach – there’s even the ruins of a half-buried 12th century church to explore. Nearby, on the Ythan Estuary, birdlife is plentiful, waders and waterfowl feast in the mud in winter, and in summer you’ll see a thousand breeding eider ducks (and maybe also ‘Elvis’ a colourful migratory king eider duck). You’re also virtually guaranteed to see grey seals basking on the north bank of the estuary.

4. CRUDEN BAY GOLF CLUB - Named the second best fun course in Great Britain by Golf World magazine and awarded top course in Scotland at the 2012 Golf Tourism Scotland Awards. Cruden Bay is a spectacular seaside course like no other. Designed by Old Tom Morris and Archie Simpson in the late 19th century and set against beautiful rolling hills with towering sand dunes, both the 18 hole Championship Course and 9 hole St Olaf Course are open to visitors seven days a week and are well worth a visit for golfers of all abilities. Visitors are assured of a warm welcome at one of Aberdeenshire’s premier golf venues.

Day 3 - Aberdeen & the Mearns

1. ST CYRUS NATIONAL NATURE RESERVE - Feel like you’re miles from the hustle and bustle of urban life as you wander along the cliffs and dunes of St Cyrus National Nature Reserve. In the summer months, this protected area is awash with colour and life, from pretty purple beachflowers dotted across the grassy dunes to the constant movement of flustering butterflies. Keep your eyes to the skies, where you might spot circling peregrine falcons, or in the winter months look out for feeding waders on the shoreline. Access to the beach may not be suitable for infirm and disabled visitors.

2. Torry Battery - For many, the star attraction of Aberdeen’s busy harbour is its pod of bottlenose dolphins, and Torry Battery is an excellent viewpoint to try and spot these playful creatures – make sure you bring your binoculars and camera! Take a stroll to this former fortified artillery battery dating back to 1810, which was last used defensively in WWII. Those of limited mobility or disability should park in the free car park, access is over rough ground but is manageable. Standing nearby at the entrance of the River Dee is Goldfinch Lighthouse which was designed by Robert Stevenson and built in 1833.

3. STONEHAVEN HARBOUR & TOLBOOTH MUSEUM - Stonehaven’s pretty working harbour, busy with sailing yachts and fishing boats, provides the perfect subject for budding photographers. Visit the Tolbooth Museum, housed in the oldest building in the town, and uncover the fascinating heritage of both the town and the 16th century building itself. It served as a prison and has connections to nearby Dunnottar Castle. In the summer months, head for the magnificent cliffs at RSPB Scotland Fowlsheugh reserve, a seabird cliff colony packed with 130,000 breeding seabirds.

4. DUNNOYAR CASTLE - Coastal castles don’t get much more romantic and dramatic than the magnificent ruins of Dunnottar Castle. Perched 160 ft high above the North Sea, nothing beats approaching the castle on foot along the coastal path from Stonehaven – a walk of around 1½ miles. This fortress has a long and enthralling history. It was besieged by Oliver Cromwell, has housed the Scottish Crown Jewels and also been graced by visits from Scottish icons William Wallace and Mary Queen of Scots. If you’re lucky, you might even see dolphins from the ramparts. Access is via uneven steps and may not be suitable for infirm and disabled visitors.

5. RSPB SCOTLAND FOWLSHEUGH - One of the world’s finest coasts, visited by visits from Scottish icons William Wallace and Mary Queen of Scots. If you’re lucky, you might even see dolphins from the ramparts. Access is via uneven steps and may not be suitable for infirm and disabled visitors.
